ITINERARY

The tour takes place over four days and four nights. We kick off along the Atlantic Coast where entrants can grab a breakfast and meet their fellow participants. This will also be where registration takes place and tour packs are handed out.

20 May	DAY 2	Citrusdal to Montagu	288 km
21 May	DAY 3	Montagu to Arniston	135 km
22 May	DAY 4	Arniston to Franschhoek	233 km

DAY 1 – SUNDAY 19 MAY CAPE TOWN TO CITRUSDAL

On day one, we depart from Bloubergstrand and head north along the Atlantic coastline. We will visit the West Coast National Park, which was declared a Ramsar site in 1988. The Park's internal roads will lead us into the windy town of Langebaan.

After a tea stop in kitesurfing mecca, we head north past Dwarskersbos and Elands Bay. Our overnight destination is situated on the peak of the Piekenierskloof Pass with stunning views over the Citrusdal valley.

DAY 2 – MONDAY 20 MAY CITRUSDAL TO MONTAGU

After a hearty breakfast we head east to the historical town of Tulbagh, famous for its earthquake in 1969. Participants will be able to visit the historic Church Street and Old Church Museum complex to discover some of the town's history.

For those with a special interest in bubbly, a visit to the nearby Twee Jonge Gezellen comes highly recommended.

We will then wind our way over Mitchell's Pass and down the Koo Valley into the land of apples, pears, apricots and peaches.

Our overnight stay will be at The Montagu Country Hotel and will experience a dinner with a twist.

DAY 3 - TUESDAY 21 MAY MONTAGU TO ARNISTON

Our third day will be the shortest route of the tour, which will allow time for participants to enjoy the Langeberg Valley. We start off the day with a surprise adventure, after which there will be an opportunity to visit one of the many Robertson and Ashton wine farms.

For those keen to visit the Southernmost tip of Africa, this is definitely the day to do it. We finish off our day of meandering in the coastal town of Arniston with a view to die for.

DAY 4 - WEDNESDAY 22 MAY ARNISTON TO FRANSCHHOEK

Day four marks our final day on the tour. After a scrumptious breakfast, we head inland through the towns of Napier and Stanford, before reaching Hermanus for our morning coffee stop.

We continue our journey through the Hemel en Aarde valley, where you will be spoilt for choice when it comes to lunch spots and stunning views.

We wind our way into the town of Franschhoek, where we will spend the night at Le Franschhoek Hotel & Spa. Take a stroll down the main street, making sure to visit the boutique chocolaterie and the Huguenot monument, before enjoying the final evening together with fellow meanderers.
